

On February 5, 2003, the Women of the San Diego SunFire, and Gridiron girls, Inc will join thousands of sports educators, coaches, athletic directors, recreation directors, association members, sponsors, students, and parents across the country will show their support of the Day and of this year's theme, "Succeed in Sports, Lead in Life". NGWSD is celebrated in all 50 states with community-based events, award ceremonies, and activities honoring the achievements and encouraging participation of girls and women in sports.

The National Girls and Women in Sports Coalition encourages all women's sports advocates to make every day Girls and Women in Sports Day by working to raise awareness of the past and recognize current sports achievements, the positive influence of sports participation, and the continuing struggle for equality and access for women in sports. Advocacy and awareness is especially important during this thirtieth anniversary year of Title IX, landmark education legislation prohibiting sex discrimination in any educational program or activity at any educational institution that receives federal funding. Whether you are a new participant or a veteran, your support for the Day and for Title IX will go a long way to increase visibility for female athletes and advance their struggle for equality in sports.

NGWSD is sponsored jointly by organizations of the National Girls and Women in Sports Coalition: Girl Scouts of the USA, Girls Incorporated, the National Association for Girls and Women in Sport, the Women's Sports Foundation, and the YWCA of the U.S.A.
